The Forests Dialogue Presents:

The Landscape Approach In Practice: Lessons Learned and Future Implementation of TFD's Land Use Dialogues

A World Forestry Congress Side Event

02 May, 2022
18-19:30 KST

The Land Use Dialogue (LUD) is a dialogue process that supports multi-stakeholder decision making around key socio-environmental and ecological issues at the landscape level. The global initiative and community of practice is coordinated by The Forests Dialogue and implemented by partners at regional, national, and landscape levels. Join us to reflect on key lessons and considerations for the three phases of the LUD approach: engage, explore, change, including how the pandemic has affected the engagement processes. We will draw from case studies in Africa, Southeast Asia, and Latin America and discuss the future of LUDs across various geographies and issues.
